

Meet our Subscribers

For generations, our subscribers have been more than audience members — they are the reason the music continues. Their shared moments and traditions are what make the Eugene Symphony feel like home.

This season, we're proud to spotlight the people who return year after year — not just for the music, but for the connection.

"The Symphony has been part of my life since childhood. Now my wife and I attend every Thursday. I want my grandchildren to love it the way I do—that's what family legacy means to me."
